Expressive Art and Design - May 2023

At Highfield, we know children express themselves in '100 different languages' and many of these languages include singing, dance, design and manipulating materials to achieve a desired effect. By engaging in experiences within the expressive arts, the children at Highfield will recognise and represent feelings and emotions, both their own and those of others. The expressive arts play a central role in shaping our sense of our personal, social and cultural identity. Learning in the expressive arts also plays an important role in supporting children to recognise and value the variety and vitality of culture locally, nationally and globally.

We want children to be able to explore and express themselves in a variety of ways. The continuous provision enables children to explore paint, playdough, musical instruments, opportunities to mark make and design and to dance at all times of the day. Enhanced provision and adult led activities such as Music Maestro enable children to explore different genres of music and enhanced provision such as a Bollywood Dance lessons during our celebration of Diwali enhance cultural capital.

Expressive Art and Design is sequenced throughout the child's time at Highfield to build on children's skills for example, children start out using the woodwork bench to hammer golf tees into pumpkins and marrows, before moving onto hammering nails into soft wood and finally children design and build for a purpose, such as making a picture frame. We also have a range of tools to build on sequential learning. For example, we have a range of scissors, including spring loaded, dual handled and left and right-handed scissors to ensure children can develop at their own level with appropriate tools to support them.

Children are introduced to different artists throughout the year, giving the opportunity to explore different ways of working with materials and allowing the freedom to expand on ideas and develop their own way of representing the world as they see it. This is closely linked and sequenced within our Story Curriculum. For example, children explore Jackson Pollock's No. 34 during Diwali and fireworks, Van Gogh's Starry Night during space, Paul Klee's Castle and Sun linked to Jack and the Beanstalk and Andy Goldsworthy during forest schools.

The singing of nursery rhymes and songs to support routines happens every day. This is enhanced by the use of Makaton, so that children can express their thoughts and feelings through song and/or sign.

A rich and diverse range of small world play opportunities are sequenced and linked to the Story Curriculum both indoors and out. Children develop increasingly complex role play and storytelling through small world and role play opportunities within the indoor and outdoor provision.

We ensure there are quality and variety of resources available to children and as children develop their sense of self, curiosity and independence, they learn the resources are available to select and use as they wish. Experienced and attuned practitioners support with this. Adults ensure the frequency and depth of experiences enable children to develop self-expression and a vocabulary to communicate through the arts.
